Bring Up Request in Considering Agricultural Census Ouestion.

MAY PUT IT THROUGH

Test Vote Defeats Idea—Legislative Bill, Carrying $38,740,733, Probably Will Be Passed in House Today.

A lively fight was staged in the House yesterday over a provision in the legislative bill that would, if en-acted, create 1,000 jobs for an equal number of Democrats. It authorizes an appropriation of $2,857,000 for an agricultural census to be taken by the Census Bureau. The work of making the census was authorized in an act passed in 1909, but no money was pro-vided for the purpose at the time. The item was inserted in the legislative bill over the protest of certain Democratic leaders.

The appropriation was attacked yes-terday by Representatives Good, of Iowa, and Gillette, of Massachusetts, on the ground that the decennial cen-sus and the Agricultural Department note all statistics of this sort that are needed. Nevertheless, Democrats in-sisted that the appropriation should be granted, and the charge was made that grantes, and the charge were to they were influenced by a desire to provide jobs for the faithful. The provision was defeated on a test vote 72 to 59. However, this vote not final. When the legislative bill comes up for final passage a record vote will be called for, and the chances tre the provision will then be passed. Consideration of the legislative bill. which carries a total appropriation of $28,740,733, was concluded yesterday. It probably will pass today. This will mark a record for the House in work accomplished before the holiday recess. The House then will begin consideration of the postoffice big, and the chances are it will be put through before the new year.

Nose. Pittsburgh, Dec. 17.-William White had just been talked to sleep in the bar-ber shop of John Baymer on the North Side when with a crash of glass through the front window came a piece of lead pipe with a burning "fuse" attached. So startled was Beymar that a quick move-ment of the razor shaved White's nose.

White grabbed a towel to stop the blood, and noting the lighted "bomb" drenched it with a mug of water. Barbers and patrons cautiously crept back and found the bomb dead.
Police who were summoned found the "bomb" fuse was rope and that the lead pipe was empty. The ends had been hammered together to hold the rope in position.

While lest a good portion of his nose he police are searching for the "bomb"
